

2.40 - Stand as user

29 May 2021

- Improvement of the user bar

The previous user bar was confusing for some users, especially to editors who had to juggle between author/editor interfaces. The user bar has been redesigned, and is now unified across all interfaces.

- Release of the "Stand as" tool

A much-requested feature, this allows you to connect to Nestor with another user account. This comes in handy to handle user support and help editors/authors. The feature is available if your profile has the associated right (cf profile administration), and a button will appear in users' information page:
