2.90 - Post-it, unique file and production sending

16 December 2021

- Release of the "post-it" tool
This tool provides a simple way for editors to share important information on an article, by displaying an "editorial note" on the article page.

- Improvement of the file types and production configuration
This allow editors to handle special files, typically used for typesetting purposes.
This includes:
    - copyediting files
    - forthcoming pdfs
