

3.10 - Article configuration improvement, lists ordering

11 February 2022

- Author & referee forms: unified style guide

- Improvement of the editor assignment tool.

It is now possible to completely reset the editor list on a given article.

- Improvement and simplification of the article type configuration.

Standard fields/custom fields/file types configuration is now standardized.

- The drag and drop ordering feature has been improved and extended to the following lists:

- editor profiles
- saved searches
- article types
- file types
- sections
- special issues
- custom fields
- recommendations

This helps to present information in a more structured way. By ordering important items first, users will be able to identify them more easily in their interfaces.
