

5.00 - Saved searches display, revert actions, mail enclosures

7 November 2023

Customised display on search results

Reference	Revision	Author	Article Type	Title	Country
JEOS-RP20230070	Original	Papier	Case study_fluxLE_AA	ECPR for prolonged Pediatric Cardiac Arrest, an outcome...	Belgium
JEOS-RP20230029	Original	Marx	Research article	ceci est un test de send back to auththor	Bangladesh
JEOS-RP20230058	Original	Martin	Research article	Development of new colloid osmotic pressure...	Austria
JEOS-RP20230071	Original	Madureira	Latex article	Two-fluid reconnection jets in a gravitationally stratified...	France

The improvements on article lists (which rolled out in 4.70) have been extended to saved searches. That means:

- displayed columns
- columns order
- preferred sorting criteria
- number of results displayed

are now saved independently for each saved search. For example if you search for a specific special issue, you can mask the column 'special issue' in the results, while keeping it in your regular dashboards.

Improvement on revert actions

The scope of revert actions has been extended to all non-critical statuses. This allows easier management/corrections of article workflows, specifically for technical checks and such.

Furthermore, revert actions are labelled more explicitly, and the status of arrival is displayed when clicking on revert buttons.

LaTeX compilation: fixes on compressed files

We benefited from a lot of feedback from authors submitting compressed files. We consequently improved our decompression methods, which accordingly fixed several compilation errors.

This change is visible only if you require LaTeX compilation at submission.
